

How Do I Use The Sibling Search?

Frequently Asked Questions

- I did a full sibling search. I found the sire in the database, but the dam's name was not on the list of dams?

There are a couple of reasons the dam's name might not be listed. First it may be that while this sire and dam have an offspring, it may not have been in the show ring yet, or perhaps the offspring showed prior to 2007. We began keeping breeding information with our show results database in 2007.

The information will be cumulative for 2007 and beyond, but it does not include show ring performances prior to 2007. It might be that we don't have the pedigree information for the offspring. If so, his name will appear in red in the show results and you can call our office to give us that information.

Or perhaps the show results did not reflect the offspring's registered name.

For our information to be complete and correct, it is important that horses are shown according to their correct registered name. If you know a horse is not receiving points correctly in the High Point REPORT or the Breeders REPORT due to being shown under a different name, call our office at 931-684-8123 to give us the details.

- I can't find my mare's name on the half sibling search?

It may be she didn't have any offspring in the show ring in 2007 and beyond.

Our database returns all mares that have offspring earning ribbons in the show ring in 2007 and beyond. If you believe she should be included in that database, please contact our office at 931-684-8123 to give us the details.

- I'd like to see a mare ranking online.

That's a great idea and one we are considering for our 2009 update. If you have other ideas for information you'd like to see online, please email our office at cparsons@horseworld.net. We want to give you the information you need to make the best breeding decisions!

What I can learn...

- I'd like to know if my broodmare has had successful offspring in the show ring by a particular stallion.
- I'm considering purchasing a broodmare and I'd like to know if she has offspring in the show ring currently.

Where do I start?

In the left hand menu choose Sibling Search. For a search of full siblings, click on the full sibling link on the lower right middle of the page. Choose your breed and input the sire you would like to search for. Then click on the specific sire that you were searching for from the possible results that are returned. All of the mares that have offspring in the show ring in 2007 and beyond by that sire are returned in a list. Choose the particular mare you are interested in, and you can see any offspring by that dam and that sire and their show record.

Step 2:
SUPREME HEIR SELECTED!

Step 3: Click on a Dam name from the results to the right or repeat Step 1 to start again.

If a dam you are looking for is not in the list, then they may have offspring that have not yet earned ribbons in the show ring. Our database begins with the 2007 show season and will be cumulative into the future.

If you would prefer to see all offspring out of a particular dam (by any sire), you should return to the Sibling Search and select the half sibling link on the lower left middle of the page. Choose your breed and input the dam you would like to search. Click on her name from the possible results that are returned. This will return her offspring that have earned show ring ribbons in 2007 and beyond. You can click on the individual offspring to see their show record as well as their breeding.
