CH So Co and Grace Markel have dominated the junior exhibitor three-gaited show pleasure ranks for the last two seasons-landing the top spot on the High Point Report for the second consecutive year, with 218 points. High Spirits Farm is the home base for this son of A Rare Temper, who made a victory pass at every show he attended in 2022. Grace Markel guided her partner to junior exhibitor three-gaited show pleasure championship tricolors at Madison Classic, Central States Benefit and St. Louis National Charity, with additional victory passes made at Bridlespur, and Midwest Charity. While on the green shavings, CH So Co and Grace Markel left Freedom Hall as the Junior Exhibitor Three-Gaited Show Pleasure 14-17 World's Champion of Champions for the second consecutive year and also earned a world's title in section one of their qualifier. The UPHA/American Royal was this pair's final stop. They carried off the top honors as the Junior Exhibitor Three-Gaited Show Pleasure 14-17 victors en route to the third place prize in the 14-17 national championship.

Newline's Big Redd secured 213 points in the reserve spot on the junior exhibitor 17 and under three-gaited show pleasure leaderboard. Ella Reagan was aboard the Mont Bleu sired entry throughout the season under the direction of Randy and Denessa Harper. This pair earned the round of honor as the junior exhibitor grand champions at Shenandoah and Lexington Junior League. They earned the reserve honors from Rock Creek and Ocala and picked up the third place prize at the Kentucky Fall Classic. One of their most memorable moments from the 2022 show season came on the green shavings where this pair left the ring as a Junior Exhibitor Three-Gaited Show Pleasure 14-17 Section Two World's Champions and the 14-17 reserve world's champion of champions.

JUNIOR EXHIBITOR THREE-GAITED SHOW PLEASURE 13 AND UNDER

She's Epic has long had a successful career in the show ring. But in 2022 she teamed up with young Michael Eifert for the first time in the junior exhibitor ranks. Their efforts resulted in the top spot on the junior exhibitor 13 and under three-gaited show pleasure leaderboard with 155 points. The Equitate team directed Eifert and his Nutcracker's Nirvana sired mare to be named the Junior Exhibitor 13 and Under Three-Gaited Show Pleasure Grand Champions at Midwest Charity and Wisconsin Futurity. They also earned additional third place ribbons at Madison Classic and Mane Event. This pair capped their first season together at the UPHA/American Royal with dual yellow ribbons from the 13 and under division in Kansas City.

Equitate celebrated the sweep of the top two spots in the 13 and under High Point Report as stablemate CH Poppin' Good Time finished just three points behind She's Epic in reserve. Skyler Skrzypchak was the primary rider aboard her Bobese sired teammate. Together, this duo made junior exhibitor show pleasure victory passes at Madison Classic, Midwest Charity, and ASAW Summerfun and swept the 13 and under ranks at Mane Event. Their season drew to a close at the UPHA/American Royal, where they were crowned the Junior Exhibitor Three-Gaited Show Pleasure 13 and Under Reserve National Champions.

JUNIOR THREE-GAITED SHOW PLEASURE

Haley Berget was the proud rider aboard the top two finishers on the junior three-gaited show pleasure High Point Report. Heir's The Spot led the way with 114 points earned at four horse shows. Spot On Partners HHB owns this son of Mountainview's Heir To Fortune who added to the Lance Hayes Stables banner throughout the 2022 season. Berget guided the entry to sweep the junior three-gaited show pleasure division at Oshkosh Charity, ASAW Summerfun, and Wisconsin Futurity. Heir's The Spot also made the victory pass as the Junior Three-Gaited Show Pleasure Grand Champion at Mane Event-improving from his fourth place finish in the qualifier.

Haley Berget was a busy exhibitor in the junior division as she also piloted Paint The Town to the reserve finish on the junior three-gaited show pleasure leaderboard with 70 points. SG Farm LLC proudly owned this daughter of Fort Chiswell's Royal Kiss before Jane Dru LLC purchased the mare after her three-gaited debut. Richmond DeHart and Haley Berget directed this mare to sweep junior three-gaited show pleasure debut at Des Moines Springfest and Midwest Charity. The youngster also left Madison Classic as the Junior Three-Gaited Show Pleasure victor.

PLEASURE EQUITATION

A newly crowned world's champion, Payton Duerr rose to the top of the pleasure equitation leaderboard with 246 points. Knollwood Farm is the homebase for Duerr and her primary teammate, Isn't She Something, who was new to the equitation ranks in 2022. Payton Duerr secured pleasure equitation wins at FASH Spring and Madison Classic. She was the Senior Pleasure Equitation Grand Champion at Lexington Junior League en route to earning two national titles in Indiana. While in Indianapolis, Duerr was crowned the UPHA Senior Pleasure Challenge Cup Finals Reserve National Champion and the Pleasure Equitation Olympics 14-17 Reserve National Champion. Her final pleasure equitation appearances came at St. Louis Charity where she topped the ASHBA National Pleasure Equitation Final and claimed the reserve streamers in the Saddle & Bridle Pleasure Equitation Medallion.

Isabella Hudson's 195 total points landed her in the reserve position on the pleasure equitation leaderboard. Julie Wroble was the proud trainer of Hudson and her partner, Mac-A-Dandy. Together this equitation team topped both the Pleasure Equitation Medallion and the Pleasure Equitation 13 and Under offering at Great River Benefit. They earned a trio of wins at Oshkosh Charity including the title of the Pleasure Equitation Grand Champions. Isabella Hudson garnered top ribbons from FASH Spring and Midwest Charity before capturing the title of the Pleasure Equitation Olympics 13 and Under Reserve National Champion and earning the third place ribbon in the UPHA Pleasure Challenge Cup Junior Finals. She capped her season with the eighth place prize in the Saddle & Bridle Pleasure Equitation Medallion Junior Finals.

WALK/TROT EQUITATION

Haylen Witmer is still young, but she has quickly amassed an impressive record in the equitation division. She claimed the top spot on the walk/trot equitation division, with 277 points earned. Both the Meadow Dream Farm and the Visser Stables teams guided Witmer and her mare Divine Investment throughout the 2022 show season. Her nearly undefeated year included 16 victory passes in her 19 classes. She scored top honors from Kentucky Spring Premier, River Ridge, Bonnie Blue, Blowing Rock, Shelbyville, and Kentucky Fall Classic. She left Lexington Junior League with a trio of wins including the title of the Walk/Trot Saddle

ASB HIGH POINT REPORT

Seat Equitation 8 and Under Grand Champion en route to Louisville. While on the green shavings, Witmer was crowned the Walk/Trot Saddle Seat Equitation 8 and Under World's Champion and captured the third place ribbon in the 8 and under championship. Haylen Witmer and Divine Investment capped their season together with a round of honor as the UPHA Walk/Trot Challenge Cup 8 and Under victor at the UPHA/American Royal, along with the third place finish in the UPHA Walk/Trot Challenge Cup 10 and Under National Championship.

Addyson Hamby closed out her walk/trot career in the reserve position on the High Point Report with 236 points. Under the direction of the Desmar team, Hamby and Nutcracker's Man At Arms were the walk/trot grand champions at Kentucky Spring Premier, Shenandoah, and Lexington Junior League. She carried off the top honors in Louisville as the Walk/Trot Saddle Seat Equitation 10-Year-Old Section One World's Champion and returned to the winner's enclosure as the Saddle Seat Equitation Walk/Trot 9-10 World's Champion of Champions. Hamby's final walk/trot appearance came aboard her new teammate Super Scandal. She earned the tricolor at the UPHA/American Royal as the UPHA Walk/Trot Challenge Cup 10 and Under National Champion.

IN-HAND TWO & UNDER

Just one point separated the top two finishers on the in-hand two & under High Point Report. Whiskey And Pearls led the way with 96 total points. Susan Worzalla presented her young homebred at two horse shows in her debut season. The daughter of Arrowhead's Once In A Lifetime earned a trio of victories at the Wisconsin Futurity as the Wisconsin Futurity Weanling Grand Champion, the Wisconsin Futurity Weanling Amateur Grand Champion, and the Wisconsin Limited Breeders Weanling Stake victor. She also excelled on the green shavings, earning the title of the ASHBA Futurity Of Kentucky Amateur Weanling Reserve World's Champion and the eighth place prize in the ASHBA National Weanling Futurity offering.

A Delirious Quandary finished just one point behind Whiskey And Pearls to claim the reserve spot on the High Point Report. Frederick and Sharon Beeler are the owners and breeders of this son of Delirium, who began the season as the ASHB Missouri Futurity Yearling Reserve Grand Champion from the Missouri State Fair. Frederick Beeler then led his entry to top finishes from the All American Horse Classic en route to Salina Charity. While in Kansas, A Delirious Quandary earned the reserve honors in the ASB Kentucky Futurity Yearling Colts class, the ASB OK Futurity Yearling Colts offering, and the ASHBA OK Futurity Yearling Colts/Fillies Amateur qualifier. The youngster also collected dual third place prizes from two in-hand championships.

MODEL IN-HAND

Unfrosted enjoyed a three-peat at the top of the model in-hand High Point Report for the third consecutive year. Carla Gierke presented her Unlisted sired mare to garner 94 points from five horse shows. Unfrosted was the ASB Pleasure In-Hand winner at ASHAO, IHSA Triple Point, and Randolph Fall Classic. She also made victory passes as the ASB Pleasure Halter victor at Red White & Blue.

Dream Horse Stable had reason to be proud of Callaway's Can You Dig It, who ended the season with the reserve position on the model in-hand rankings. The daughter of Callaway's The Gipper finished the year with 51 points from three horse shows. Tessa Pritt led the mare to be named the ASB Halter victor and ASB Pleasure Halter winner at Inter-County Triple. The mare also secured third and fourth place prizes at both Red White & Blue and ASHAO all while simultaneously competing as a successful three-gaited show pleasure performer.

PARADE

The top two finishers on last year's parade High Point Report once again led the way in 2022. Johnny's Fancy Affair claimed the top spot with 194 points earned at 10 horse shows. Roger and Connie Pruden's Johnny Shrived sired mare entertained crowds beginning at Des Moines Springfest where she was crowned the Parade Horse Grand Champion. Roger Pruden and his teammate also secured the tricolor and top honors from the parade ranks at Missouri State Fair and Monarch National Championship. This pair additionally made victory passes at UPHA Chapter 5, NCHS Summer Kick Off, Salina Charity, and Central States Fall Classic before ending their season with the third place ribbon in the Parade Horse National Championship at the UPHA/American Royal.

Paddyngton's Special Effect once again secured the reserve position on the parade rankings. Cathy Harris DVM and her Harlem's Hot Gold sired entry cinched the second place spot with 185 total points. This duo made parade horse victory passes at Des Moines Springfest, UPHA Chapter 5, NCHS Summer Kick Off, Mid-American Charity, Salina Charity, and Central States Fall Classic. They were also crowned the Parade Horse Reserve Grand Champions at Missouri State Fair and Monarch National Championship and left Hale Arena in Kansas City with the fourth place prize from the Parade Horse National Championship.
