RIDING HORSES has taught me more than anything else in life. It has taught me patience, dedication, and confidence. I have met some of the most influential people in my life through horses. These individuals have helped to shape me into the person I am today. One in particular, Mary Orr, has challenged me to move outside of my comfort zone! She has pushed me to be my very best in every aspect of life and she instilled a confidence in me that has helped me accomplish so many goals and will continue to help me throughout my life! Almost 14 years ago I fell in love with American Saddlebreds and I never knew it would lead to so many great friends, extended family members, wonderful memories, and unforgettable lessons! I am excited and ready for what's to come!
