

LOOKING BACK... Memories Of

GREATER BOSTON 2010

The early success of Greater Boston was due in large part to the efforts of Courtney Cahill and Ken Logan. With Cahill in charge of hospitality and Logan along with John Lampropoulos serving as show co-chairs, there was no shortage of good times at Greater Boston.

Now better known as the mom of Maya and Matthew Tasch, Anne Tasch was the show ring star herself in 2010. Teamed with her grandmother Millie LeBoff's Drop Dead Gorgeous, Anne earned the Show Pleasure Driving Championship.

The Deltorchio family of High Tail Acres has been instrumental in the success of Greater Boston. Dawn Deltorchio is pictured helping Sydney Noyes prepare for the show ring.

Cater Stables has been a strong supporter of Greater Boston since its inception. David and Kristen Cater along with their team bring a large group of show and academy riders to the show each year.

Sally Kropp was the deserving winner of the Tim Lydon Sportsmanship Award in 2010. In addition she showed off her signature style on the lines of Hackney Pony Pleasure Driving Reserve Champion Prissy Devil.

Sam Villa showed off his blue ribbon style with a winning ride in the academy division. He was joined by proud parents Nicholas Villa and Sharon Ellingwood.

Luman Wadhams Stable directed Deedee Ludlam and Lady Of Affirm to the 2010 Amateur Three-Gaited Park Championship. Today, Wadhams is the chair of UPHA Chapter 14.
