

LOOKING BACK...
Memories Of

INDIANAPOLIS CHARITY 2010

Sally Grieme and Enzo enjoyed a tricolor 2010 season with Indianapolis Charity being one of five shows where they earned a tricolor. Directed by Crumpler Stables, they made victory passes in 2008 at Louisville and Kansas City.

Reese Richey rode RJM Russian Roulette to the Morgan Western Pleasure Championship, while owner Connor Farley rode him to the Walk/Jog Western Pleasure honors. Farley and the War And Peace son teamed up for several world titles over their ten-year partnership.

Dakota Reiser and Erin Obenauf celebrated a tricolor show under the Reiser Stables banner. Dakota teamed up with Santana's Gypsy Gal, while Erin rode CH A Midnight Kiss to the winner's circle.

Audrey Lowry stepped in for Rebecca Boorstein to ride CH Teuschers to the Junior Exhibitor Country Pleasure Championship to the delight of Jim Lowry. Boorstein was back in the irons for tricolor rides at Midwest, Blue Ridge and the Kentucky State Fair.

Under the Merlin Farm banner, Chris Brannan rode Lakeview's Why to the Three-Gaited Park Championship. Chris Brannan and wife Stephanie are now the owners and trainers of Wingswept Farm.

Nick Maupin started off the 2010 season as Indianapolis Charity Saddle Seat Equitation Champion. Under the Knollwood Farm banner, he became the first male Saddle Seat Equitation Triple Crown winner that same year.

Georgia Blevins teamed up with Early Edition to capture the Hackney Pleasure Driving Pony Championship. The grand Night Editor son enjoyed victory passes throughout his long and successful career with several drivers.

